

I am completely and utterly opposed to this impending decision by the FCC to open up cross-ownership of radio stations, TV stations and newspapers across the board. I find the media landscape to already be narrow enough as it is, and allowing companies to own even more than they already do will only make further narrow the range of political and cultural opinions out there.

I respectfully ask you not to allow this to go ahead, and to listen to the overwhelming majority of the public which is against this move.

Sincerely,

Thomas Marzahl
